

Welcome to the Swedish Society for Emergency Medicine (SWESEM)

The Swedish Society for Emergency Medicine (SWESEM) aims to improve emergency medical care through education, research and training.

Emergency Medicine is recognized as a specialty in Sweden since 2006. Another important aim is to establish Emergency Medicine as a basic specialty rather than the current status of supraspecialty.

The society was first established 1999. Today we have more than 400 members.

The society organizes an annual national meeting (typically in October) which is associated with one or more precourses.

SWESEM is a member of both the European Society for Emergency Medicine (EuSEM) and the International Federation of Emergency Medicine (IFEM).

Details:

- The society requires a medical degree for full membership (Emergency nurses have their own association). Membership is free of charge. Sign up at "Bli medlem" or contact us through the address below.

- Visiting Sweden? Don't hesitate to contact us! We are always interested to hear your experiences of Emergency Medicine from abroad!
